

I enjoy having the services that xm brings to me in comfort of my car, since I travel a great deal it is nice to know what is going around in some of the cities and states that I go through, so I know what kind of delays that I will be experiancing before I get there. Nowing my luck it may start with the weather then go to the other stations that I enjoy listening to, on day to day bases. So please leave well enough alone.